INDIVIDUALIZED COACHING AND LIVE WEBINARS

Care Transitions Network members receive one-on-one technical assistance and coaching on a range of topics to support your practice transformation efforts, from practice transformation planning to documenting and analyzing your value to payers. Your organization will be linked to a designated practice coach who will help you assess your readiness for value-based payments (VBPs) and facilitate the transformation process. Care Transitions Network members can also attend our live webinars, many of which offer contact hours that count toward CMEs and CEUs for clinical staff, and access webinars 24/7 on our website, www.caretransitionsnetwork.org. Our webinars cover a full range of topics to help you prepare for value-based payments, with a specific focus on patient and family centered care design, data-driven continuous quality improvement and sustainable business operations.

PRACTICE TRANSFORMATION PLANNING

All Care Transitions Network members receive one-on-one assistance to create an organization level transformation plan, which captures your organization's vision and strategy to prepare for VBPs. Our VBP Planning Guide promotes a systematic approach towards transformation, and can help your organization identify manageable objectives and specific actions reach your long-term goal of readiness for VBPs. The VBP Planning Guide can help your organization to:

- Mobilize the personnel needed to guide and support practice transformation
- Identify key performance measures, establish baselines and collect data to track progress over time
- Create a work plan to set aims, benchmark progress, sustain change and demonstrate value to payers

STRENGTHENING POPULATION HEALTH MANAGEMENT

VBP arrangements incentivize health care providers to provide effective, efficient care, and bring together information on the quality of health care with data on the dollars spent. Participating in VBPs, therefore, requires population health management, including stratifying patient populations by risk. If an organization cannot identify and manage its highest risk populations and track improvement at the population level over time, it will not be able to demonstrate value to payers.

The Care Transitions Network offers two tools to support population health management—a Risk Stratification Tool and a Chronic Conditions Financial Calculator. These tools enable our member organizations to take a population health management approach to both clinical care and business operations, and determine their value as defined by patient health outcomes and cost of care.
